There are still 15 claims to be processed this next month in an amount of approximately $400.00. The amount budgeted for this run-out should be close to the amount of final payout. A final report will be presented after the close of April's expenses.

No action was taken by the Court.

The students left the Court at this time, to go on tours of the different offices to get a more in depth idea of the variety of services and jobs done throughout County Government.

- 10. Herb Straach (Templeton Construction) reported to the Court that in Phase II, plumbers are changing the piping and valves for the plumbing chases. There is miscellaneous steel being cleaned and installed. They are finishing plastering and the prep work for the painting is being done by the inmate work crew. The electricians are pulling wires for the fire alarms and the smoke alarms and security wiring is being installed.
 In Phase III, the painting is continuing, the millwork in the remaining courtroom will be installed this week. The ceramic tile is being installed in the bathrooms and the electrical work is continuing. No final date was given. The state fire marshal may require more electronic work on the outside doors. Kenny Burns will be checking on this.
- 11. Ron Bruno, Parker County Residential Treatment Center, Inc., explained to the Court that his facility is currently a 50 bed facility for levels 5 & 6 type youth which are high security.

James Saffle and Scott Williams, Southern Corrections, Inc. a subsidiary of Avalon Correction Facility, which is located in Oklahoma with an 80 to 100 bed facility.

Both operations indicated they would offer the existing staff the opportunity to make application and continue with their employment at the facility. They will probably continue the current curriculum that is being used and both stated they would be willing to undertake the management of the facility immediately, if necessary. They both indicated that if the need was there, they would like to enlarge the facility, but Mr. Bruno did state that he felt that facilities of this type, could become "too large" to be effective. Lengthy discussion and questions were addressed with the basic decision being whether or not the County wished to continue a facility that was originally built for an outside, for interest, leasing proposal or to undertake the management of the facility on a full term basis.

Commissioner Weeks moved to award RFP 02-004 "Management and Operation of Roy K. Robb Post Adjudication Drug Treatment Facility" to Southern Correction System, Inc., a division of Avalon Correction Services subject to contractual negotiations and agreements between both party's, by and through attorney's for Tom Green County and Avalon to be signed by Judge Brown; Tom Green County will continue operation and management until such a time as the contracts and agreements are signed. 13. Pat Malloy, member of the Chamber of Commerce, requested a personal property tax abatement on behalf of DCS, Inc., (Diversified Collection Services) who is relocating an expansion of there operations to the Sunset Crossing Shopping Center. The request is for 75% of personal property for 5 years. This would create new jobs and has provisions in the contract that verifies the numbers proposed to be employed. The number of employees projected to be 100 within the first year. They exceed the minimum compliance requirements for consideration of the tax abatement process. Other facilities are located in California and Oregon.

Judge Brown moved to extend and approve a 5 year tax abatement on personal property between Tom Green County and DCS Inc., to be located in the Sunset Crossing Shopping Center with a statement sent to the Tom Green County Judge each year. Commissioner Easingwood seconded the motion and all voted in favor.

14. Curtis Nelson, developer, requested approval of his plat for Big Sky Estates.
Joyce Nance, resident across from the proposed development, stated that the water pressure, which is through a public water provider, is already so bad that she cannot turn on more than one faucet at a time in her home, without the pressure falling drastically. She objected to the finalization of this development until a larger water line is installed. She has 2 personal wells that are so low that they have been hooked together to provide enough water for their livestock.

Commissioner Weeks moved to approve the plat for the Big Sky Estates Subdivision as presented, subject to the payment of the required application fee. The motion was seconded by Judge Brown.

Payne presented a right of way map and was approved for the right of way. The HB further states that through a petition of at least 20% of qualified voters that voted in the last election, then the issue can be placed on the ballot for the voter's to decide on.
